

Quick Brown Fox: An Alzheimer's Story

A gripping examination of the emotional costs, causes and potential cures of the disease.

“Intelligently and articulately put together, with irony and laughter and love.”

– Liz Taylor, Seattle Times columnist

- 🎬 Film
- 🎬 Information Panel
- 🎬 Refreshments
- 🎬 All Free and Open to the Community

Learn about a range of free services for people with memory problems and their family caregivers (or loved ones).

Thursday, November 16, 2006

7:00pm–8:30pm (doors open 6:30pm)

RSVP: (206) 224-3757

ElderHealth Northwest
South Seattle Adult Day Health Center
4712 35th Ave S (off Alaska)
Respite care available

Film followed by discussion panel with filmmaker Ann Hedreen and Dementia Partnership representatives (see below).

Sponsored by the King County Dementia Partnership Project, whose members include ElderHealth Northwest, Alzheimer's Association, Evergreen Healthcare's Geriatric Regional Assessment Team, Senior Services, Kin On Community Healthcare, and Seattle/King County Aging and Disability Services.

